OPEN HOUSE HELD BY HARRY SMITH

When Paul Revere's Lantern shown from a public building it was a signal that something of import was cooking in Boston. The galaxy of bright lights which illuminated the fine new home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, in the Ravi's subdivision, last Saturday, also spoke a similar message for it was the evening that Mr. and Mrs. Smith had set their "open house" party, and around 150 guests found their way to the spot.

Mr. Smith states that no credit was to go to him for the exquisite home, but all honor was due his wife, who had it built by her own idea. The L. Cunningham Company were the contractors.

The exterior view is beautiful, with dormer windows, and an attractive door way. The interior shows a spacious and beautiful home, consisting of a living, dining room, bed room, and a corridor connecting the kitchen and bed room, with storage receptacles along the hall-

Neil Depamphilis is Bereaved by Death

Of His Aged Father

Thomas H. Depamphilis, aged 71, a long time resident of Miami and Coral Gables, died at his home in the latter city, Sunday afternoon, after a long illness. He was a native of Italy but had been a citizen of the United States around 50 years. In boyhood he became interested in silk worm cultivation and in the spinning of silk, and when he came to America, he became connected with leading industrialists in that line of business. Capitalists he represented, decided that Florida would be a good place to raise silkworms and of course establishment of mulberry orchards for their food. The boom had come along and this promotion like so many others of that date held up. Mr. Depamphilis at one time studied for the ministry and

Commercial Fishing Gives Florida A Five Million Income

A lack of scientific management of Florida's fishing industry would have resulted in the loss of the $5,000,000, said Dr. F. H. Walton Smith, director of the Marine Laboratory at the University of Miami, who addressed the Florida Wildlife Federation here.

"Any retail business worth its salt should be managed with competent management or it would go broke. Yet, until a year ago, there were on experts engaged in analyzing Florida's industry."

Consequently, he said, the laws are conflicting, confusing and in many cases inadequate. This is not the fault of the legislators who have done a "wonderful job," he declared.

"What is needed is a strong, well-organized and particularly well-financed board of conservation with power to enact regulations on the basis of scientifically-determined facts and without being under any political or other control of other sportmen or commercial fishermen," Dr. Smith added.

Commercial Fishing Gives Florida A Five Million Income

A lack of scientific management of Florida's fishing industry would have resulted in the loss of the $5,000,000, said Dr. F. H. Walton Smith, director of the Marine Laboratory at the University of Miami, who addressed the Florida Wildlife Federation here.

Consequently, he said, the laws are conflicting, confusing and in many cases inadequate. This is not the fault of the legislators who have done a "wonderful job," he declared.

"What is needed is a strong, well-organized and particularly well-financed board of conservation with power to enact regulations on the basis of scientifically-determined facts and without being under any political or other control of other sportmen or commercial fishermen," Dr. Smith added.

Ben Morgan, chairman of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, announced recently the state was going to raise $500,000 to eradicate the water hyacinths from lakes and streams.

"Big Potato," a barge used in the water control plan, was built by S. L. Cheek, Jr., president of the Florida Anglers Association, sponsors of the $500,000 Lake Apopka Fish Rodeo. The barge was used for a year to the Lake Apopka sportsman, who spent $1,500 in having it remodeled so that it moves under its own power and has an engine to force the weed killer through a spray 100 feet with the water.

The barge holds about 600 gallons of water and weed killer and it sprays 25 gallons a minute.

Flood Control Expenses Claimed to Be An Investment

While money spent on the water control plan will not be an expense but it will be an investment, according to Dr. J. D. Duvell in the current issue of the Florida Angler, published periodically by the University of Florida.

"The 1949 Florida Legislature will be faced, when it convenes in April, with the water control problem which has been one of the state's area with one-third of the state's population and which provides almost one-half of the state's revenues."

Based on a survey of the Army Corps of Engineers, the report shows the annual loss from flood damage to be $2,000,000 for the Upper St. John's River Valley area, $1,500,000 in the Kissimmee River Valley area, $4,125,000 in the Lake Okechobee-Everglades area and $3,857,000 in the East Coast-Everglades area.

Dr. Duvell says "If the coastal and Everglades section of Florida continue to develop and prosper in the next 50 years, it will no doubt be due in a large measure to the 'investment' of public funds in the water control program. Water control will encourage development in the area and thus provide greater revenues for the federal and state governments in the years ahead."

Seeking to Place Public Utilities Under State Regulations

A new public utilities act to place all electric, gas and water companies under the state regulation will be introduced in the 1949 legislature by Representative John Burwell of Fort Lauderdale, he has announced.

The bill, which proposes that he had the assistance of Attorney General Richard E. Irvin, will exempt municipally-owned utility plants.

He said the "actuating rates of the four major and several minor utilities serving Florida make it necessary to have all regulation be applied. He said this need is especially strong for the small rural counties and country areas that have no city or county regulation exists."

The utilities would be placed with the telephone, telegraph, and railroad and motor carrier utilities already regulated by the Florida Railroad and Utilities Commission. Laws under which this state commission operates have been tested for seventy years by the courts. In addition, he pointed out, this commission is the only constitutional authority outside the courts that has power to enforce its own orders.

Representative Burwell said he believes a majority both houses and senate in the coming legislative session favors state control of all utilities. Florida is one of six states which do ported of very excellent quality. Harvest acreage estimated at 10,000 acres.

S. M. Jones and Company, of Canal Point, are not going to be in the sweet corn market this season, but will major in cabbage, celery and potatoes.

The early Monday morning rain, plus high cold winds, caused Glades growers considerable apprehension for the safety of crops, but this hurdle was successfully crossed. No frost damages reported.

Experimental plantings of Cauliflower and Broccoli at the Experiment station, have shown gratifying results, fine heads being produced. More plantings of these products are likely in the next season.

in Belle Glade it will be sponsored by the Merchant's Division of the Chamber of Commerce. Urgent appeal is made by this agency to the merchants and women of the city to give good support to this school, which will be most instructive in the manner of better buy of foods, the safe refrigeration and handling of provisions, and the proper preparation of same for the table.

It also takes up sanitation for the homes, the business places, the handling of food products, personal cleanliness and health of employees.

The date of the school for Belle Glade school has been fixed for March 29th, 30th, and 31st, but the place of the morning and afternoon sessions will be announced.

mission and the insurance companies.

It is the policy of the Department of Safety under the Workmen's Compensation Division of the Commission to approach the industrial accident prevention primarily from an educational standpoint. This policy is based on the knowledge that safety mindlessness cannot be legislated or arbitrarily developed, and like any other social attitude it is not acquired overnight.

A ten percent increase in the number of accidents reported by employers covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act occurred last year. Most of these, however, were for medical benefits only, indicating the awareness of protection from infection caused by minor injuries. A definite decrease in accidents can be attributed to increase in number of employers covered.

Construction, wood and citrus industries are Florida's biggest offenders in so far as accidents are concerned. Construction alone accounted for 21,655 of the 53,027 Workmen's Compensation cases handled by the Commission last year at a cost of $1,253,000.

"Accidents are mistakes coming to light," according to A. P. McIntosh, Safety Consultant for the Commission, "It is our job to find these mistakes before their coming to light results in injury or death to a worker. And to do this, each worker must have an attitude of safety mindlessness, so 90 percent of our work is with the human element."

Faces of Disaster

There were 45 floods last year, bringing with them misery and suffering. Again this year, thousands will need housing, medical care, food, and long-term rehabilitation. And, as always, your Red Cross will be there. Last year, through your Red Cross, you gave relief to 363 disasters—assisted over 312,400 persons.

Belle Glade Rams Have Two Members On Conference Team

While our Golden Ram basketball team did not make such a high rating in the tournament in the Gulf Stream conference, played last week, it did have two players who made the all-conference team, namely D. C. Niles and Alvin Leathers.

Pompano was awarded three positions. Delray 2; South Broward, Redlands, Key West and Homestead, one each while Pahokee failed to gain a place.

The scores made in the Thursday night contests were: Belle Glade, 46, South Broward, 36; Delray 27, Redlands, 20; Pompano, 43, Key West, 35. Friday, the Rams were defeated by Pompano, 48 to 44. Saturdays' contests found Belle Glade and Homestead playing in the consolation, which our home town boys won 48 to 37. Delray defeated Pompano, 36 to 22, and his team took top honors in the tournament. The Seahawks will go to Daytona Beach to represent the conference in the state tournament. Very best wishes go to the team.

In the junior contest, St. Ann defeated South Bay, 33 to 17; Belle Glade 32, Jupiter, 10; Northboro, 39, Pahokee, 15; and Central of West Palm Beach, in a roaring game topped Belle Glade, 21 to 20.

A. Pike and Mr. Knight presented considerable forceful cattle information, which definitely denied the charges as set forth in the complaint. The gist of the talks was that cows were not fly breeders, but if there were flies, insects and odors in the section, they probably came from the Lapeere grass and rotten growth produced by disintegration.

The Commission, after hearing the testimony presented by experienced cattlemen, and reports from the Sanitary Officer, tabled the action, and Mr. Knight will continue his cattle on his pasture lands.

Tom Watson Given Degree in Belle Glade Masonic Lodge

At the regular communication of Belle Glade Lodge, No. 273, F. and A. M., Tuesday night, Tom Watson, Jr. presented himself as candidate for the Entered Apprentice degree. Examination was also held for seven EA degree men for advancement for the Fellowship degree, which will be conferred at the communication of March 22nd.

On the evening of March 18th, the Master and Wardens of the association of the 22nd Masonic district will be held in the hall of Okeechobee lodge in Okeechobee City.

It's our job to help make farm work easier and better paying. That means doing a lot more than just selling tractors and implements; it means that we must make farming our business, too. That's why we like to spend as much of our time as we can out visiting our farmer friends. That's how we learn why and how one farm is different from another... and see how the many different problems can be licked.

If we haven't been around to see you lately, we're hoping to do so soon. We'd like to get better acquainted... both with you and your farm. The better we know you, the better we'll be able to serve you.

Meanwhile, next time you're in town, drop in and see us. Lots of folks do. You'll be welcome.

Belle Glade Lions will gladly welcome the new Canal Point club into the Glades chain of clubs. Plans will be made by the local club to stage the charter night ceremonies. These four clubs unitedly can do much for civic good in the Glades and their respective fields of operation.

Belle Glade Rotary the coming week is to welcome other clubs in an intercity meeting, and the club is working hard to keep up its reputation as a fine host. Reported that some very interesting numbers have been prepared for pogram presentation.

Those Australian pines which were planted along the canals some 15 years ago, have grown into hard and sturdy trees. While in away a protection to auto traffic, on the other hand when a car strikes one or more of these trees, there is usually more or less wreckage, auto, killed or injured passengers.

Not since Eli Whitney invented the gin for ginning cotton, has there been so many scientists busy working on designs for weaving the strands of ramie, the new product which is upsetting the fabric markets. Mechanical and chemical experts are also working on advanced machinery and methods for decorticating ramie and preparing the ramie ribbons for cloth making. The science of growing this old China and Egyptian plant experiment carried, mostly by experiment carried on in the Everglades. The same ramie promises to provide the Glades with a new and expanding industry, in growing, decorticating and possibly weaving of fabric or making other products out of its sheen silk, strong fibre.

Have you had your dish of snap beans and pot liquor from the new crop? That is a pretty nifty dish which most every one in the Glades enjoys.

One driving along the front of the State prison farm, one does not see the work of vast building improvements which the state is making there. The new prison barracks set well back toward the railroad are almost completed; several cottages have been erected for employment occupancy, and a new mechanical garage is located at the rear of the farm. When the new buildings are ready for occupancy, a number of the old buildings, including the present barracks, will be razed or moved to other locations for designed uses.

For six months of the year, no other section of the so important or busy than just the industrial packing house sector. The various highways through the district over which the heavy trucks reach the packing house platforms get pretty heavy usage an show wear and tear. The city and county are now placing huge quantities of rock on the road lanes protective to deepening the base and reconditioning the road ways. This improvement will be much appreciated by the packing house operators.

In many of the smaller cities and towns of Florida, in the suburban section, are found many coveys of apparently tame quail. These city birds seem only afraid of a man in a gun, and go about their life in a satisfactory and contented manner. Since quail are becoming less plentiful in rural sections, the Game Commission has been petitioned by city sportsmen for the right to trap them to replace in rural hunting grounds. This move apparently is not so much from a motive of preserving the quail, it is to get them out of the city and to propagate and bring on better shooting during the hunting season.

Negroes Break Out in a Series of Crime Offense

Negro nerves seems to have swung off balance over Saturday night and Sunday, for Municipal Judge Jack Johnson, at Monday night's police court, had a long docket to consider. There were many repeaters in the bunch and to such the judge assessed heavier fines than for first offenders.

Many women were up for quarreling and using profane language; others were up for assault and battery, cutting and a general melee of offenses.

The most Beautiful BUY for Performance with Economy

Every test you make at the traffic light, on the hills, on the straightaway—and of gasoline and oil mileage at journey's end—will confirm your own deep-seated conviction that Chevrolet is the most beautiful buy of all for performance with economy!

Moreover, your new Chevrolet will keep on giving this finer brand of thrills and thrift with unfailing dependability, year after year, for it's the only low-priced car with a world's champion Valve-in-Head Engine, holding all records for miles served, owners satisfied, and years tested and proved.

New "Dubi-Lite" Rivetless Brake Linings—Last up to TWICE as Long!

Linings are secured to brake drums by a special "fermo-bond" process thoroughly tested and proved by millions of miles under all kinds of driving conditions. Because there are no rivets to limit lining wear or score brake drums, lining life is practically doubled. Chevrolet is the first full-sized car in America to bring you this important braking advancement!
